Identify the independent and dependent clauses in the following sentence: "Even though it was late, she finished her homework, and she went to bed."

Independent clauses: "she finished her homework," "she went to bed"; Dependent clause: "Even though it was late."

Explain the difference between an independent clause and a dependent clause.

An independent clause expresses a complete thought and contains a subject and a verb, whereas a dependent clause also contains a subject and a verb but does not express a complete thought and cannot stand alone.

What punctuation is typically used before a coordinating conjunction in a compound-complex sentence?

- Semicolon
- Colon
- Comma ✓

Period

In a compound-complex sentence, a comma is typically used before a coordinating conjunction to separate independent clauses. This helps clarify the structure of the sentence and improve readability.

Which of the following is an independent clause?

- Because it was raining
- While she was cooking
- She went to the store. ✓
- If he arrives on time

An independent clause is a group of words that contains a subject and a verb and expresses a complete thought. It can stand alone as a sentence.

Which sentence is a fragment?

- She went to the park.
- After the rain stopped. ✓
- We danced all night.
- He is reading a book.

A fragment is an incomplete sentence that lacks a main clause. It does not express a complete thought and often leaves the reader hanging.

Which of the following sentences is a compound-complex sentence?

- I like tea, and she likes coffee.
- Although it was raining, we went outside.
- She reads books, and she writes stories because she loves literature. ✓
- He ran fast.

A compound-complex sentence contains at least two independent clauses and one or more dependent clauses. Identifying such a sentence involves looking for multiple clauses that fit this structure.

Which of the following are subordinating conjunctions? (Select all that apply)

- Or
- Since ✓
- Because ✓
- Yet

Subordinating conjunctions are words that connect an independent clause with a dependent clause, indicating a relationship between the two. Common examples include 'although', 'because', 'since', and 'while'.

Create a compound-complex sentence that includes the coordinating conjunction "but" and the subordinating conjunction "because."

Although it was raining, I decided to go for a walk, but my friend stayed home because he didn't want to get wet.

Why is it important to use punctuation correctly in compound-complex sentences? Provide an example.

It is important to use punctuation correctly in compound-complex sentences to ensure clarity and prevent misinterpretation of the sentence structure.

Which word is a subordinating conjunction?

- And
- But
- Because ✓
- Or

A subordinating conjunction is a word that connects a dependent clause to an independent clause, indicating a relationship between the two. Common examples include 'although,' 'because,' and 'since.'

Which of the following is NOT a feature of a compound-complex sentence?

- At least two independent clauses
- At least one dependent clause
- Only one independent clause ✓
- Use of coordinating and subordinating conjunctions

A compound-complex sentence must contain at least two independent clauses and one dependent clause. Therefore, a feature that does not include either of these elements would not be characteristic of a compound-complex sentence.

Write a compound-complex sentence using the subordinating conjunction "although."

Although it was raining, we decided to go for a hike, and we had a great time.

Which components are necessary for a compound-complex sentence? (Select all that apply)

- At least two independent clauses ✓
- At least one dependent clause ✓
- A semicolon
- A subject and a predicate ✓

A compound-complex sentence requires at least two independent clauses and one or more dependent clauses. This structure allows for more complex ideas to be expressed in a single sentence.

Which sentences are compound-complex? (Select all that apply)

- I went home because it was late, and I was tired. ✓
- She sings beautifully.
- Although he was hungry, he didn't eat, and he went to bed. ✓
- They will arrive soon.

A compound-complex sentence contains at least two independent clauses and one or more dependent clauses. To identify them, look for sentences that combine these elements.

Identify the coordinating conjunctions from the list below. (Select all that apply)

- Because
- And ✓
- But ✓
- Although

Coordinating conjunctions are words that connect words, phrases, or clauses that are similar or equal in structure. The most common coordinating conjunctions are 'for', 'and', 'nor', 'but', 'or', 'yet', and 'so'.

What is a compound-complex sentence?

- A sentence with one independent clause and one dependent clause
- A sentence with two independent clauses and one or more dependent clauses ✓
- A sentence with two dependent clauses
- A sentence with three independent clauses

A compound-complex sentence combines elements of both compound and complex sentences, containing at least two independent clauses and one or more dependent clauses.

What is the role of a dependent clause in a sentence?

- To stand alone as a complete sentence
- To provide additional information to an independent clause ✓
- To replace an independent clause
- To act as the main clause

A dependent clause adds additional information to a sentence but cannot stand alone as a complete thought. It typically functions as an adjective, adverb, or noun within the larger sentence structure.

Discuss a common mistake people make when writing compound-complex sentences and how to avoid it.

One common mistake is failing to properly punctuate the clauses, which can result in run-on sentences. To avoid this, use commas to separate independent clauses and ensure that dependent clauses are clearly linked to their main clauses.

Which of the following sentences contain a dependent clause? (Select all that apply)

- She will call you.
- If you need help, let me know. ✓
- I will go, but I am not happy about it.
- Because it was raining, we stayed inside. ✓

A dependent clause is a group of words that contains a subject and a verb but cannot stand alone as a complete sentence. Sentences that include dependent clauses will often start with subordinating conjunctions such as 'because,' 'although,' or 'if.'

Which of the following are independent clauses? (Select all that apply)

- She laughed ✓
- When the sun sets
- He will call you ✓
- If it snows

Independent clauses are complete thoughts that can stand alone as sentences. They typically contain a subject and a verb and express a complete idea.
