Why is it incorrect to use 'ser' instead of 'estar' in the present progressive tense? Provide an example to illustrate your explanation.

It is incorrect to use 'ser' instead of 'estar' in the present progressive tense because 'estar' indicates a temporary state or action in progress. For example, saying 'Estoy comiendo' (I am eating) is correct, while 'Soy comiendo' (I am being eating) is incorrect.

List three common mistakes learners make when using the present progressive tense in Spanish and explain how to avoid them.

1. Confusing present progressive with simple present: Ensure you use present progressive for ongoing actions, not habitual ones. 2. Misusing gerund forms: Remember that regular verbs form gerunds by adding -ando or -iendo. 3. Forgetting to conjugate 'estar': Always pair the gerund with the correct form of 'estar' (estoy, estás, está, estamos, están).

Which of the following is an incorrect use of the present progressive?

- Ella está hablando.
- Nosotros estamos corriendo.
- Tú estás cantando.
