Part 1: Building a Foundation

What is the rule for capitalizing the first word in a sentence?

Hint: Think about the basic rules of sentence structure.

- Only capitalize if it is a proper noun
- Always capitalize ✓
- Capitalize only if it is a pronoun
- Do not capitalize unless it is a title

■ The first word in a sentence should always be capitalized.

Which of the following should always be capitalized?

Hint: Consider the categories of words that require capitalization.

- Days of the week ✓
- Common nouns
- Names of languages ✓
- Directions like north and south

■ Days of the week, names of languages, and proper nouns should always be capitalized.

Explain why proper nouns are always capitalized. Provide two examples.

Hint: Think about the significance of proper nouns in language.

Proper nouns are capitalized to distinguish them from common nouns; examples include 'John' and 'Paris'.

List four categories of words that require capitalization.

Hint: Consider different types of nouns and titles.

1. Category 1

Proper nouns

2. Category 2

Titles

3. Category 3

Days of the week

4. Category 4

Names of languages

Categories include proper nouns, titles, days of the week, and names of languages.

Part 2: Understanding and Interpretation

Why are titles of books capitalized?

Hint: Think about the nature of titles in literature.

- To make them stand out
- Because they are proper nouns ✓
- Only if they are famous
- To follow a stylistic choice

Titles of books are capitalized because they are considered proper nouns.

Identify the sentences with correct capitalization:

Hint: Look for proper nouns and the beginning of sentences.

- I visited the eiffel tower last summer.
- She loves Italian cuisine. ✓
- We will travel to the south of France.
- My favorite book is 'to kill a mockingbird.'

The correct sentences are those that follow capitalization rules.

Describe the difference between capitalizing a title before a name and after a name, with examples.

Hint: Consider how titles function in sentences.

Titles before a name are capitalized as they are part of the name, while titles after a name are not capitalized unless they are part of a formal title.

Part 3: Application and Analysis

If you were writing a letter, which part of the address should be capitalized?

Hint: Think about the components of an address.

- Only the street name
- The city and state ✓
- The entire address
- Only the recipient's name

■ The city and state in an address should be capitalized.

Which of the following sentences correctly applies capitalization rules?

Hint: Look for proper nouns and the beginning of sentences.

- The meeting is scheduled for monday at the community center.
- My brother works at Google as a software engineer. ✓
- She moved to the west coast last year.
- He is studying french and spanish at university.

■ The sentences that follow capitalization rules will have proper nouns and correct sentence structure.

Rewrite the following sentence with correct capitalization: "the president of the united states lives in the white house."

Hint: Pay attention to proper nouns and the beginning of the sentence.

■ The correct sentence is 'The President of the United States lives in the White House.'

Analyze the following sentence: "The doctor said that my uncle, who lives in texas, is recovering well." Which word should be capitalized and why?

Hint: Identify the proper noun in the sentence.

- Doctor
- Aunt
- Texas ✓
- RecoverING

■ The word 'Texas' should be capitalized because it is a proper noun.

Part 4: Synthesis and Reflection

Evaluate the following sentence for capitalization accuracy: "During the Summer, we visited my Aunt in San Francisco." What should be corrected?

Hint: Look for any words that should not be capitalized.

- Summer ✓
- Aunt
- San Francisco
- No corrections needed

■ The word 'summer' should not be capitalized unless it is part of a title.

Create a correctly capitalized title for a book about the history of the internet:

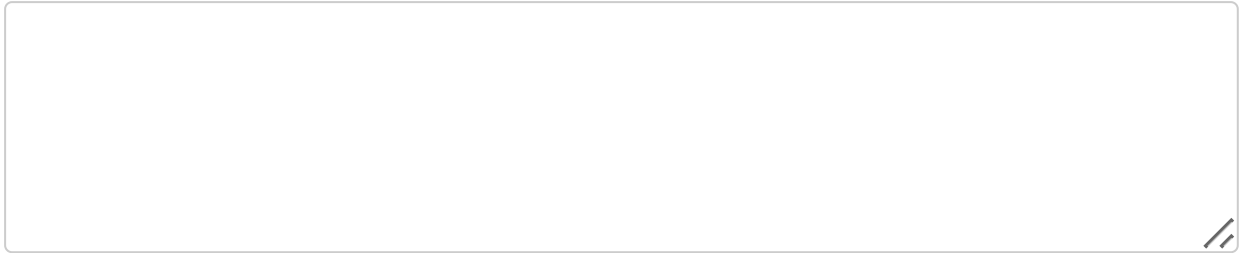

Hint: Think about the rules for capitalizing titles.

- "the history of the Internet"
- "The History Of The Internet"
- "The History of the Internet" ✓
- "The history of the internet"

■ The correct title is 'The History of the Internet.'

Reflect on the importance of capitalization in written communication. How does it affect the clarity and professionalism of a text? Provide examples to support your points.

Hint: Consider how capitalization influences perception.

Capitalization enhances clarity and professionalism by indicating proper nouns and the beginning of sentences; for example, 'I love New York' is clearer than 'i love new york.'
