

Fill In The Blank Future Worksheet

Fill In The Blank Future Worksheet

Disclaimer: The fill in the blank future worksheet was generated with the help of StudyBlaze AI. Please be aware that AI can make mistakes. Please consult your teacher if you're unsure about your solution or think there might have been a mistake. Or reach out directly to the StudyBlaze team at max@studyblaze.io.

Part 1: Building a Foundation

What is the primary auxiliary verb used to form the future tense in English?

Hint: Think about the most common verb used for future actions.

- Have
- Will
- Had
- Was

What is the primary auxiliary verb used to form the future tense in English?

Hint: Think about the most common auxiliary verb for future actions.

- Have
- Will
- Had
- Was

Which of the following sentences correctly use the future tense?

Hint: Look for sentences that indicate actions that will happen.

- She will go to the market tomorrow.
- I am going to visit my grandmother next week.
- He went to the store yesterday.
- They are playing soccer now.

Which of the following sentences correctly use the future tense?

Hint: Identify sentences that indicate future actions.

- She will go to the market tomorrow.

- I am going to visit my grandmother next week.
- He went to the store yesterday.
- They are playing soccer now.

Explain the difference between using 'will' and 'going to' in future tense sentences.

Hint: Consider the context in which each is used.

Explain the difference between using 'will' and 'going to' in future tense sentences.

Hint: Consider the context in which each is used.

List two common time expressions used with the future tense.

Hint: Think about words that indicate time in the future.

1. First time expression

2. Second time expression

Which sentence structure is correct for future tense?

Hint: Consider the order of subject, verb, and auxiliary.

- Subject + will + base verb

- Subject + will + past verb
- Subject + going to + past verb
- Subject + had + base verb

Which sentence structure is correct for future tense?

Hint: Consider the order of subject, verb, and auxiliary.

- Subject + will + base verb
- Subject + will + past verb
- Subject + going to + past verb
- Subject + had + base verb

Part 2: Understanding and Interpretation

When is 'going to' typically used in future tense sentences?

Hint: Think about the context of planning versus spontaneity.

- For actions decided at the moment of speaking
- For planned actions or events
- For actions that happened in the past
- For actions happening right now

When is 'going to' typically used in future tense sentences?

Hint: Think about the context of planned actions.

- For actions decided at the moment of speaking
- For planned actions or events
- For actions that happened in the past
- For actions happening right now

Identify the sentences that express a prediction about the future.

Hint: Look for sentences that indicate what will happen.

- It will rain tomorrow.
- I am going to start a new job next month.
- She is reading a book.
- They will probably win the match.

Identify the sentences that express a prediction about the future.

Hint: Look for sentences that indicate what will happen.

- It will rain tomorrow.
- I am going to start a new job next month.
- She is reading a book.
- They will probably win the match.

Describe a situation where you would use 'will' instead of 'going to.'

Hint: Think about spontaneous decisions versus planned actions.

Describe a situation where you would use 'will' instead of 'going to.'

Hint: Think about spontaneous decisions versus plans.

Part 3: Application and Analysis

You see dark clouds in the sky. Which sentence best describes your prediction?

Hint: Consider what you think will happen based on the evidence.

- It is raining.
- It will rain.

- It rained.
- It is going to rain.

Write a short paragraph about your plans for the weekend using both 'will' and 'going to.'

Hint: Include specific activities you plan to do.

Write a short paragraph about your plans for the weekend using both 'will' and 'going to.'

Hint: Include both forms in your writing.

Analyze the sentence: 'She is going to study tonight.' What does this imply about her intention?

Hint: Consider the planning aspect of the action.

- She decided just now.
- She has a plan.
- She is studying now.
- She studied last night.

Analyze the sentence: 'She is going to study tonight.' What does this imply about her intention?

Hint: Consider the context of her decision.

- She decided just now.
- She has a plan.
- She is studying now.

- She studied last night.

Determine which sentences indicate a spontaneous decision:

Hint: Look for sentences that show immediate choices.

- I will call you later.
 We are going to the movies tonight.
 I will help you with your homework.
 They are going to visit their grandparents.

Determine which sentences indicate a spontaneous decision:

Hint: Look for sentences that show immediate choices.

- I will call you later.
 We are going to the movies tonight.
 I will help you with your homework.
 They are going to visit their grandparents.

Part 4: Evaluation and Creation

Evaluate which sentence best predicts a future event based on evidence:

Hint: Consider the strength of the prediction based on facts.

- I will win the lottery.
 The sun will rise tomorrow.
 She is going to win the race; she has been training hard.
 We will travel to Mars.

Evaluate which sentence best predicts a future event based on evidence:

Hint: Consider the context and likelihood of the event.

- I will win the lottery.
 The sun will rise tomorrow.
 She is going to win the race; she has been training hard.
 We will travel to Mars.

Synthesize a plan for a future project using future tense:

Hint: Think about how to structure your project plan.

- We will start the project next Monday.
- I am going to gather the materials tomorrow.
- They will complete the first phase by Friday.
- We are going to review the results next month.

Synthesize a plan for a future project using future tense:

Hint: Think about the steps involved in your project.

- We will start the project next Monday.
- I am going to gather the materials tomorrow.
- They will complete the first phase by Friday.
- We are going to review the results next month.

Create a dialogue between two friends discussing their future plans. Use at least five future tense sentences.

Hint: Think about what activities they might plan together.

Create a dialogue between two friends discussing their future plans. Use at least five future tense sentences.

Hint: Make sure to include a variety of future tense forms.

Propose two future predictions about technology and justify your choices.

Hint: Consider trends and advancements in technology.

1. First prediction about technology

2. Justification for first prediction

3. Second prediction about technology

4. Justification for second prediction