

Fill In The Blank Future Worksheet Questions and Answers PDF

Fill In The Blank Future Worksheet Questions And Answers PDF

Disclaimer: The fill in the blank future worksheet questions and answers pdf was generated with the help of StudyBlaze AI. Please be aware that AI can make mistakes. Please consult your teacher if you're unsure about your solution or think there might have been a mistake. Or reach out directly to the StudyBlaze team at max@studyblaze.io.

Part 1: Building a Foundation

What is the primary auxiliary verb used to form the future tense in English?

Hint: Think about the most common verb used for future actions.

- Have
- Will ✓
- Had
- Was

█ The primary auxiliary verb used to form the future tense in English is 'will'.

What is the primary auxiliary verb used to form the future tense in English?

Hint: Think about the most common auxiliary verb for future actions.

- Have
- Will ✓
- Had
- Was

█ The primary auxiliary verb used to form the future tense in English is 'will'.

Which of the following sentences correctly use the future tense?

Hint: Look for sentences that indicate actions that will happen.

- She will go to the market tomorrow. ✓
- I am going to visit my grandmother next week. ✓
- He went to the store yesterday.
- They are playing soccer now.

The correct sentences are those that express future actions.

Which of the following sentences correctly use the future tense?

Hint: Identify sentences that indicate future actions.

- She will go to the market tomorrow. ✓
- I am going to visit my grandmother next week. ✓
- He went to the store yesterday.
- They are playing soccer now.

The sentences that correctly use the future tense are those that indicate actions that will happen.

Explain the difference between using 'will' and 'going to' in future tense sentences.

Hint: Consider the context in which each is used.

'Will' is often used for spontaneous decisions, while 'going to' is used for planned actions.

Explain the difference between using 'will' and 'going to' in future tense sentences.

Hint: Consider the context in which each is used.

'Will' is often used for spontaneous decisions, while 'going to' is used for planned actions.

List two common time expressions used with the future tense.

Hint: Think about words that indicate time in the future.

1. First time expression

| tomorrow

2. Second time expression

| next week

| Common time expressions include 'tomorrow' and 'next week'.

Which sentence structure is correct for future tense?

Hint: Consider the order of subject, verb, and auxiliary.

- Subject + will + base verb ✓
- Subject + will + past verb
- Subject + going to + past verb
- Subject + had + base verb

| The correct structure is 'Subject + will + base verb'.

Which sentence structure is correct for future tense?

Hint: Consider the order of subject, verb, and auxiliary.

- Subject + will + base verb ✓
- Subject + will + past verb
- Subject + going to + past verb
- Subject + had + base verb

| The correct structure for future tense is 'Subject + will + base verb'.

Part 2: Understanding and Interpretation

When is 'going to' typically used in future tense sentences?

Hint: Think about the context of planning versus spontaneity.

- For actions decided at the moment of speaking
- For planned actions or events ✓
- For actions that happened in the past
- For actions happening right now

█ 'Going to' is typically used for planned actions or events.

When is 'going to' typically used in future tense sentences?

Hint: Think about the context of planned actions.

- For actions decided at the moment of speaking
- For planned actions or events ✓
- For actions that happened in the past
- For actions happening right now

█ 'Going to' is typically used for planned actions or events.

Identify the sentences that express a prediction about the future.

Hint: Look for sentences that indicate what will happen.

- It will rain tomorrow. ✓
- I am going to start a new job next month. ✓
- She is reading a book.
- They will probably win the match. ✓

█ Sentences that express predictions about the future include those that foresee an event.

Identify the sentences that express a prediction about the future.

Hint: Look for sentences that indicate what will happen.

- It will rain tomorrow. ✓
- I am going to start a new job next month. ✓
- She is reading a book.
- They will probably win the match. ✓

Sentences that express predictions about the future typically use 'will' or 'going to'.

Describe a situation where you would use 'will' instead of 'going to.'

Hint: Think about spontaneous decisions versus planned actions.

'Will' is used for spontaneous decisions, such as deciding to help someone at the moment.

Describe a situation where you would use 'will' instead of 'going to.'

Hint: Think about spontaneous decisions versus plans.

'Will' is used for spontaneous decisions, while 'going to' is for planned actions.

Part 3: Application and Analysis

You see dark clouds in the sky. Which sentence best describes your prediction?

Hint: Consider what you think will happen based on the evidence.

- It is raining.
- It will rain.
- It rained.
- It is going to rain. ✓

█ The best prediction based on the evidence is 'It is going to rain.'

Write a short paragraph about your plans for the weekend using both 'will' and 'going to.'

Hint: Include specific activities you plan to do.

█ The paragraph should include a mix of 'will' and 'going to' to describe future plans.

Write a short paragraph about your plans for the weekend using both 'will' and 'going to.'

Hint: Include both forms in your writing.

█ Your paragraph should demonstrate the use of both 'will' and 'going to' in future plans.

Analyze the sentence: 'She is going to study tonight.' What does this imply about her intention?

Hint: Consider the planning aspect of the action.

- She decided just now.
- She has a plan. ✓
- She is studying now.
- She studied last night.

█ This implies that she has a plan to study tonight.

Analyze the sentence: 'She is going to study tonight.' What does this imply about her intention?

Hint: Consider the context of her decision.

- She decided just now.
- She has a plan. ✓
- She is studying now.
- She studied last night.

■ This implies that she has a plan to study tonight.

Determine which sentences indicate a spontaneous decision:

Hint: Look for sentences that show immediate choices.

- I will call you later. ✓
- We are going to the movies tonight.
- I will help you with your homework. ✓
- They are going to visit their grandparents.

■ Sentences that indicate spontaneous decisions are those made at the moment.

Determine which sentences indicate a spontaneous decision:

Hint: Look for sentences that show immediate choices.

- I will call you later. ✓
- We are going to the movies tonight.
- I will help you with your homework. ✓
- They are going to visit their grandparents.

■ Sentences that indicate spontaneous decisions typically use 'will'.

Part 4: Evaluation and Creation

Evaluate which sentence best predicts a future event based on evidence:

Hint: Consider the strength of the prediction based on facts.

- I will win the lottery.
- The sun will rise tomorrow.
- She is going to win the race; she has been training hard. ✓
- We will travel to Mars.

█ The best prediction based on evidence is 'She is going to win the race; she has been training hard.'

Evaluate which sentence best predicts a future event based on evidence:

Hint: Consider the context and likelihood of the event.

- I will win the lottery.
- The sun will rise tomorrow.
- She is going to win the race; she has been training hard. ✓
- We will travel to Mars.

█ The sentence that best predicts a future event based on evidence is 'She is going to win the race; she has been training hard.'

Synthesize a plan for a future project using future tense:

Hint: Think about how to structure your project plan.

- We will start the project next Monday. ✓
- I am going to gather the materials tomorrow. ✓
- They will complete the first phase by Friday. ✓
- We are going to review the results next month. ✓

█ The sentences should reflect a clear plan using future tense.

Synthesize a plan for a future project using future tense:

Hint: Think about the steps involved in your project.

- We will start the project next Monday. ✓
- I am going to gather the materials tomorrow. ✓
- They will complete the first phase by Friday. ✓
- We are going to review the results next month. ✓

█ Your plan should include specific actions using future tense.

Create a dialogue between two friends discussing their future plans. Use at least five future tense sentences.

Hint: Think about what activities they might plan together.

The dialogue should include at least five sentences that express future plans.

Create a dialogue between two friends discussing their future plans. Use at least five future tense sentences.

Hint: Make sure to include a variety of future tense forms.

Your dialogue should demonstrate the use of future tense in a conversational context.

Propose two future predictions about technology and justify your choices.

Hint: Consider trends and advancements in technology.

1. First prediction about technology

AI will become more integrated into daily life.

2. Justification for first prediction

AI is already being used in various applications.

3. Second prediction about technology

| Renewable energy sources will dominate the market.

4. Justification for second prediction

| There is a growing emphasis on sustainability.

| Predictions should be based on current trends and logical reasoning.